

Getting Started Worksheet

This tool will help you look at your environment and highlight which strategies you are already working on, and those that will best help you in promoting physical activity and healthy eating.

Using the following scale, mark in the first column what level of attention you are currently giving each strategy. Use the middle column to indicate the areas you would like to focus on this year. And finally, use the last column to mark where you would like to be by spring on your selected strategies.

1. Not even on the radar screen.
2. We are making plans to do this, but aren't doing it yet.
3. We are doing this in a few classrooms.
4. We are doing this in more than a few classrooms.
5. We are doing this in most classrooms.
6. We are doing this program/school-wide.
